COMPETITION OF THE BEST ONLINE PRACTICES IN THE SPHERE OF CITIZENSHIP EDUCATION

EENCE (Eastern European Network for Citizenship education) is a network of organizations engaged in citizenship education in the countries of the Eastern Partnership of the European Union (Azerbaijan, Armenia, Belarus, Georgia, Moldova, Ukraine) and Russia.

We invite you to partake in the competition of online practices held within the Week of citizenship education.

Representatives of civil organizations (NGOs, associations, foundations, non-profit institutions), state and academic organizations, institutions of formal and non-formal education from all countries of the Eastern Partnership and Russia are invited to participate in the competition.

The situation connected with the spread of the coronavirus COVID-19, when millions of people lost access to traditional forms of education, proved the necessity for the available and high-quality online resources necessary for organizing formal education as a part of the school and other educational institutions curricula, as well as the sphere of non-formal education.

Furthermore, well-designed online products and services (events / programs / courses, etc.) can expand the access of various focus groups to education, reduce the cost of implementing curricula, improve the effectiveness of the curricula (especially in combination with conventional forms of training)

The main objectives of the competition:

- Promotion and public awareness of the best practices and providers of citizenship education in the Eastern Partnership region and Russia.
- Increasing sustainability and improving the quality of projects and programs in the sphere of citizenship education through the exchange of experience in implementing online and distance learning tools.

Winners of the competition will be determined in two categories:

- online practice implemented in the field of citizenship education (descriptions of the events held and the results achieved are accepted for the competition)
- online practices planned in the sphere of citizenship education (descriptions of concepts of planned events and expected results are accepted for the competition).
